

COMMITTEE IS ORGANIZING $1,000,000 CEMENT CO.

Edmonton and Winnipeg Capitalists
Interested—Proposed Plant will have Capacity of 500,000 barrels per year

At a meeting in the King Edward hotel yesterday, an advisory committee of five members was appointed for the purpose of organizing the $1,000,000 cement company which is to be located about 12 miles west of the city along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, on a 200-acre site owned by Messrs. Geo. B. McLeod, W. S. Heffernan, Frank Day, Jas. McKinnon, Donald McKinnon and A. J. Lundy.

The committee was formed for the purpose of organizing the project, and will report at an early date as to the formation of a company, in which Edmonton, Winnipeg and other capitalists will be interested. The committee will organize a board of directors which will be absolutely assured the success of the enterprise. The board will be composed of Messrs. A. C. Frick, Dr. Ferris, A. Driscoll, A. C. Frick, and S. H. Smith are the committee of five upon this preliminary work.

Allen Hayes of Spokane, who has been engaged for many years past in development work in the professional way, was responsible for the organization of the project for the formation of the cement company, Mr. Hayes is acting in a purely professional capacity, his object being to launch a successful industrial project, where opportunities are most in evidence. It is not himself interested in a financial way in the present proposition, but is interested in the project in connection with this and a couple of other large schemes, details of which will be forthcoming in the course of a few days.

In conversation with The Capitalist this morning he stated that the first step to be taken in connection with the development of the cement industry would be to appoint two expert engineers, one mechanical, the other chemical, who would report upon the project from a technical point of view. The chemical engineer will secure samples of the marl and clay deposits, and send these away to be tested as to their qualities for cement production, so that it may be actually demonstrated that a high-grade product may be turned out at the plant. The mechanical engineer will plant upon the exact location of the construction of the plant, which, on a preliminary basis, will be as many more as will be required in the C. N. R. camps in G. T. P. Have Enough Men.

No more men will be required at present in the G. T. P. construction camps west of the city, according to the local agents of Poley, Welsh, and Stewart. Over 2,000 men are now working on the grade in the mountainous, and this number is sufficient to push the work to the end of the summer. It is not likely that more men will be put on at present.

The Canadian National railway, which have not yet opened up construction work for the season, will require at least 2,000 men for their camps when the outfitting is put to work on the grade. This number at least will be used by the C. N. R. west of Edmonton, while as many more will be required in the C. N. R. camps in G. T. P.

Many of the men will be brought from eastern Canada, and there will be employment for all who want such work, when the construction is well under way.

Official confirmation of the fact that the reason for the British Empire and Canada hold their own today is that they are well governed. As a representative of British government, stood King George V, and it should be the ambition of all British citizens to give the children of the city a memorable day on the occasion of coronation day.

The cost Mr. Turner estimated at $100,000, but he pointed out that this sum might be exceeded. The societies would be required to provide their portion of the processions, and individuals who took part as individuals must do likewise. But the organization of the pageant must be planned so that the publicity value of the expenditure would be much greater than the amount involved.

SANITATION PROBLEM IS ONE OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

STRATHCONA BOARD OF HEALTH MAY RECOMMEND THAT CITIZENS BE COMPELLED TO CONNECT RESIDENCES WITH SEWER AND WATER MAINS

Strathcona, March 23.—The economic scavenging of the city on thoroughly sanitary lines is a vexatious subject with which the board of health began grappling yesterday afternoon and that the members are keenly alive to the importance of this matter was shown in the remarks of one member. "This is the most vital question of the city to-day," which appeared to be the unanimous opinion of the meeting. This was the first meeting of the board under Mayor Davies' regime. Dr. Holston, the new member who presided, and the other members excepting Mr. Little who is out of the city.

A revision in the present unsatisfactory system of scavenging was the topic chiefly discussed and it was the unanimous opinion that the use of so-called sanitary pits should be discontinued as early as possible in order that some more healthful method might be adopted. Sanitary inspector McKewen presented a plan of an earth pit which would be readily cleaned and which would act as a receptacle for practically all house refuse excepting tin cans. It was generally felt that this was the most desirable and most sanitary method of handling the night soil problem and Mayor Davies expressed his hearty use of them throughout the city. He objected in involving either the city as a whole or individuals in any expensive system of scavenging. It was finally decided to experiment with the sanitary pits and construct a model closet or two with a view of ascertaining the probable cost of installing the system of pits. This experiment will be made at one by Mr. McKewen.

No Disposal on Sewer.
During the discussion both city engineer McKean and waterworks superintendent Turner raised vigorous objections to the disposal of the night soil and similar refuse as suggested, in so many points of the sewer lines instead of hauling the stuff to the distant manure grounds. Both maintained that the sewer disposal plan would create a real work. The present city engineer, who the sewer slope, except below Saskatchewan avenue, would make it real work. The present city engineer, who the sewer slope, except below Saskatchewan avenue, would make it real work. The present city engineer, who the sewer slope, except below Saskatchewan avenue, would make it real work.

Since the present sewerage contract expires on the last day of the month, the board took up the matter of appointing his successor. Upon the query of Mayor Davies the board decided that the work should be done by contract although the use of earth pits may make a difference in the price of the work. The present sewerage contract will probably be engaged until the middle of next month.

About Connections.

ONTARIO MEN LOOK FOR RAILWAY WORK

Several Hundred Want to Come West to Help Build Alberta Railways—
G. T. P. Have Sufficient Labor.

Nearly three hundred sturdy youths from Ontario farms are waiting to come to Edmonton to seek employment on railway construction, according to Chief Publicity Officer Commissioner Hotchkiss. The Alberta publicity offices in Toronto have been flooded with requests from these men to go to the west to work on railway construction. They have heard that there is work for hundreds of men in the railway camps.

All these and many hundreds more would be required to build the new line for railway construction work. But the railway companies will not furnish them with transportation, and if the sturdy Ontario youths are anxious to see life in Alberta railway camps, it will be necessary for them to pay their own fare to Winnipeg, from where the railway contractors will bring them free of charge.

RUSH BATTLEFORD LINE THIS YEAR

Cowan Construction Co. Have Further
Contract on Line into McMurtry
Country from North Battleford.

A further stretch of 55 miles is to be constructed this summer on the line that the Canadian National railway is building out of North Battleford into the Fort McMurray country, and which will tip the scale in favor of the line and Great Waterways road from Edmonton was to have tapped.

Official confirmation of the fact that the reason for the British Empire and Canada hold their own today is that they are well governed. SETTLERS COMING IN LARGE NUMBERS

Newly arrived settlers are beginning to crowd the land office counter, and although the main rush of settlers will not commence for some weeks, the vanguard have arrived and are preparing to secure homesteads early.

This morning over 30 homesteads were filed upon and before the day is over this number will have been increased to nearly fifty. This is a greater number than has ever before been filed upon in any one day at the Edmonton land office.

During the coming summer, Land Agent McKenzie expects that the rate per day will be 50 homesteads, and fully anticipates that this rate will keep up during the summer months. There are enough settlers now in sight and on their way to the city to guarantee an average of fifty homesteads a day, and if this record is kept up, it will smash all records ever made at the land office.

Within the next few weeks, settlers will begin to arrive in the city at the rate of anywhere from 100 to 200 and 300 per day. Prospective settlers from the east and from across the international border are not waiting for excursions, but are coming ahead as fast as possible, with the idea of being on the land this spring at the earliest possible moment.

The publicity department of the provincial government, who are preparing to bring three excursions to the province on April 4th, one of these from Montana, state that the settlers from Montana are not even waiting for the excursion, but are crowding over the border in great numbers every day.

Premier Considers That Agreement With City Is Too Strict—Has Bigger Projects.

The Interurban radial lines, as proposed for the Edmonton district by Montreal capitalists, are killed for all time, according to Premier Balfour. The promoter, who has just returned from Montreal. It is all the fault of the legislature, says Mr. Balfour.

The Interurban company holds a charter from the legislature to build several lines throughout the Edmonton district. Previous to last session the company has been in agreement with St. Albert to supply them with light. Because the legislature annulled the agreement, on the ground that the rates quoted for light and power were in their opinion exorbitant, Mr. Balfour's company have abandoned all their projects in the Edmonton district.

As much was admitted by Mr. Balfour yesterday. The act of the legislature annulling the agreement was the last straw, he said. Not a mile of the proposed radial lines would be built this summer. Mr. Balfour says that his syndicate is occupied with bigger projects, such as the development of vast coal fields in the west, and that the smaller projects including the radial lines, will have to stand over for a while. The agreement with the city of Edmonton for entrance of radial lines will be allowed to lapse, but it is possible that negotiations will be resumed at some date in the future.

The Edmonton board of trade have received notification from the commission of the railway commission of Canada, to investigate commercial telegraph tolls, at a meeting to be held in Toronto on April 24th. The railway commission have engaged special counsel to act for them in the investigation.

Solicitor for Gallagher et al Submits His Arguments to Mr. Justice Stuart

COUNSEL FOR DEFENSE WILL SUBMIT HIS REPLY THIS WEEK

O. M. Biggar, K. C. Counsel for Plaintiff, Says That Above Mentioned Councilmen Should Not be Allowed to Vote on Motion Providing for Dismissal of Utilities Commissioner

That Aldermen Mould and Grindley are disqualified from voting on the dismissal of Commissioner Bouillon, on the ground of interest, and that Aldermen McInnis, Lundy and Gowan are disqualified on the ground of prejudgment and interest, is the contention of O. M. Biggar, counsel for the plaintiff in the action of Gallagher vs. Armstrong, in the argument which he completed yesterday, and handed in to Mr. Justice Stuart, the trial judge, and to W. L. Walsh, K.C., counsel for the city in the recent action.

Mr. Biggar asks for a declaration that Commissioner Bouillon can be dismissed only "after notice has been given of what is alleged against him," and he has been "given a chance to be heard." He asks for a declaration that the meeting which was arranged for February 25th, for the purpose of confirming the motion discharging Commissioner Bouillon, was improperly called, and for an injunction restraining the city council from passing any resolution to dismiss Com. Bouillon except after notice has been given of complaints against him, and hearing has been held, and then only by a vote of such aldermen as are not named as being disqualified to vote upon this question.

Of the council of nine members, inclusive of Mayor Armstrong, only four would be eligible to vote upon the question of the dismissal of Com. Bouillon, if the contention of Mr. Biggar is upheld. Mayor Armstrong, and Aldermen Millar, Hyndman and McKinley.

In the opening pages of the document which has just been placed in the hands of the judge and the defendant's counsel, Mr. Biggar deals with the application of Mr. Walsh for a non-suit on the ground that the action was not properly constituted, that it should have been constituted, if at all, by the attorney general's department. Mr. Walsh contended that only when the person applying for an injunction of this character, were peculiarly interested in such being granted, could the proceedings be instituted by him, and quoted a number of English and Canadian cases in support of his contention. Mr. Biggar submits that Mr. Gallagher as a ratepayer, is in almost the identical position of a shareholder in a company, and that he has, therefore, an indirect pecuniary interest in the action. Mr. Biggar quotes one of the parties interested in the pro-Bouillon agitation as describing the dismissal of Com. Bouillon as "the removal of the watch dog from the treasury." He contends that "either the attorney general or Mr. Bouillon might be added as parties, time being allowed for the purpose."

"In view of the decision of Mr. Justice Beck," says Mr. Biggar, the plaintiff cannot be blamed for going down to trial without them. "Altogether apart from any technical legal question it would be most unfortunate after the merits have been tried, to allow this case to be disposed of on any question of its constitution."

Mr. Walsh's argument in reply to Mr. Biggar will be complete in a few days.

SUPREME COURT EN BANC HEARS MOTION ASKING THAT RAILWAY AND CONSTRUCTION COMPANY
BE INCLUDED AS CO-DEFENDANTS IN CASE

Argument in the appeal of the Province against Mr. Justice Beck's order joining the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway and the Canada Construction Company as co-defendants with the Royal Bank in the action brought by the Province to recover the control of the $6,000,000 of waterways money lying in the bank was concluded in the supreme court yesterday afternoon, and judgment in respect to the appeal, and to the application of the companies to be added as co-defendants, will be given out at the end of the sittings of the court on June 1st.

Mr. Ford's motion in behalf of the companies, asking that they be added as co-defendants, was heard by the full court, Justice Beck sitting at the hearing of this application, since it was raised as a distinct motion, independent of the appeal of the Province, will be given out at the end of the sittings of the court on June 1st.

LONDON'S LOCK STEP FAD.

Do you know the "lock step?" If not, says the Paris Matin, go to London, and take a look over the principal arteries of that immense capital. In order to do the "lock step" you jump from one leg to the other with a firm and rhythmic movement, and you let one leg remain in the air an instant, just like a chicken in distress in a pool of water. The famous "lock step" was launched by one of the big theatres of the capital, and since then all the Londoners, amused by it, have tried their best, no matter where they are, to master the secret of its cadence. The success of the new fad has been such that, according to the Matin, "professors of lock step" hire men to go about the streets marking the time of the movement and distributing prospectuses bearing the address of the masters in the art of the "lock step."

THE LAMBKINS' CHIEF CHARM.

One fine day in spring Sir Walter Scott strolled forth with Lady Scott to enjoy a walk around Abbotsford. In their wandering they passed a field where a number of ewes were enduring the frolics of their lambs. "Ah," exclaimed Sir Walter, "this is a wonder that poets from the earliest ages have made the lamb the emblem of peace and innocence." "They are, indeed, delightful animals," returned Lady Scott, "especially with mint sauce."—"A Century of Anecdotes."

Over the dessert a magazine editor reproached the author for the awful way he roasts the morals and manners of our millionaires in "The Jolly Gormer." The author said that they deserved roasting—and to prove it he told a story.

He said that a New York multi-millionaire got converted one night at a revival meeting, and, standing up in his place, the rich convert declared that his conversion was retroactive, and he proposed to make restitution to anyone he had ever wronged.

Well, about two o'clock that morning the millionaire was awakened by a long ring at the bell. He put his head out of the window.

"Who's there?" he said. "I am Thomas J. Griggs," was the reply. "I heard about your conversion and I'd like you to pay me back $200,000 you cheated me out of in the U.S.A. receivership."

"All right, I'll pay you," said the millionaire; "but why the deuce," he added apologetically, "do you want to rise me up at this hour?" "Well, you see," was the reply, "I thought I'd come early and avoid the rush."

One morning last summer President Taft, wearing the largest bathing suit known to modern times, threw his substantial and ponderous form into the cooling waters of Beverly Bay.

That afternoon a newspaper correspondent sent the following to his paper: "There was little little swimming along the north shore today. The President was using the ocean."

A LITERARY COINCIDENCE.

"My father, W. Clark Russell," said Herbert Russell in telling of a literary coincidence, "had finished maturing the plot of his novel 'The Death Ship,' which is a version of the legend of Vanderdecken. I was his amanuensis at the time. He said to me, 'Tomorrow we will begin the story. On the following morning when I entered his study to take his dictation for the opening lines he showed me a letter he had just received. It was from W. S. Gilbert, the well-known dramatist, asking him why he did not write a novel about the Flying Dutchman.'"

One of the cleverest bits of electioneering dexterity was devised by an agent who had been forbidden to corrupt the electors.

He called a meeting and attended with his pockets full of gold. "I have to inform you, gentlemen," he began, "that there is to be no bribery on our side during this election. (Heart, heart) For my part I do not intend to give away a penny piece. (Unclassy silence.) But I am afraid that there are some d—d rascals in this room, and that presently they will lay me out on the table and take 500 sovereigns out of my pockets."

The next few minutes he spent upon the table.

This is an extract from the diary of the little heroine in Kate Trible Sharber's story, "The Annals of Ann," which proves the sharpness of youthful observation.

No matter how fine a doctor lady's husband is, she is never permitted to mention it to her friends, for this is called "unethical." But if she's a quacking company of an afternoon she can happen to have a bottle with a queer thing inside setting on the mantelpiece, and when the company asks what on earth the thing is she can say, "For goodness' sake! My husband may have forgotten that. Why, that's Senator Humuck's appendix!"

Nervous Prostration

Makes You Weak, Helpless and Miserable.

Wherever there are sickly people who are troubled with deranged nerves they will find that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will restore the equilibrium of the deranged centres, and bring back the strattered nervous system to a perfect condition.

They do this by their restorative influence on every organ and tissue of the body, and their extraordinary curative power manifests itself immediately they are taken.

Mrs. G. D. Ward, Huntville, Ont., writes: "I take pleasure in sending you my testimonial in praise of your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I suffered terribly with nervous prostration, and became so bad I was not able to attend to my household duties, and now I can truthfully say that I owe my life to them. Three boxes stopped my trouble."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

These selections were made last night. Only two men from each regiment in the province are to be selected. The selection was made by Major F. C. Jamieson, second in command of the regiment, in the absence of Col. Belcher, C.M.G., the commanding officer.

Regimental Sergt-Major Lee has been with the regiment since its organization in 1906. He served a long term in the mounted police previously. Sergt. Sullivan has also been a member of the regiment since its organization. He took a course in training at Winnipeg last year.

be applied in accordance with the terms of the trust, in accordance with which the money was raised.

Justice Stuart: "You want to go on and build the railway?"
Mr. Ford replied that it was the desire of the companies that the trust funds must be applied to this purpose.

Chief Justice Harvey: "The act passed by the legislature says the funds are the property of the Province. If the act be valid, what is to prevent the Province from getting the money?"

Mr. Ford: "The act may be valid as a constitutional principle, and yet inapplicable to the parties in a particular case."

Replying for the Province, Mr. Walsh contended that the company had already been foreclosed, and that Mr. Bennett had foreclosed, it could no longer be possible for the companies to bring action against the bank.

Justice Scott: "The companies might not take the action to the Privy Council, other parties might do it."

At the conclusion of the hearing of the motion, Mr. Ford requested that his independent motion to add the Waterways Railway and the Construction Company as co-defendants in the action against the Royal Bank, be left over until a decision had been given by the court on the appeal.

Chief Justice Harvey pointed out that after the judgment have been given out there will be no opportunity for the hearing of motions, and for this reason it was desirable to hear the motion immediately.

Justice Scott: "I think it is improper to hear a motion when the companies are applying for something which they possess under an order already given."

Justice Scott: "It may be a necessary precaution, taken in view of the contingency of the appeal being dismissed."

Eventually Mr. Ford agreed to apply his motion, the same arguments applying as were presented in the course of the hearing of the appeal of the Province.

Mr. Walsh, for the Province, formally opposed the motion.

IS EDMONTON MORE CHICKEN HEARTED THAN EASTERN TOWNS

While the man who would be Czar of Edmonton and a couple of the Edmonton papers are trying in all the ways they know to saddle a gas franchise on Edmonton, eastern Canadian towns are going ahead with their gas plants.

Guelph has a municipal gas plant which it has operated successfully for a number of years. Belleville has a municipal gas plant which it took over from a company a year ago and at the end of a year's operation was able to cut the rate on gas by 25 per cent. Sarnia, which has been subject to corporation ownership, has passed a resolution in council to buy the gas plant and is proceeding to acquire the company's holdings.

Edmonton has had the reputation of being a municipal ownership town. More than half the favorable mention which Edmonton has received in the newspapers of the world arises from the fact that the city owns its own utilities.

Is Edmonton, at this stage of its existence going to be frightened by a couple of reactionary newspapers and a commissioner who has lost the confidence of the council from undertaking an enterprise which towns like Guelph, Belleville and Sarnia enter upon without hesitation?

AMERICAN RAILROADS NO MENACE

While the railroad magnates of Canada talk about the dangers of reciprocity to the east and west trade, it is a remarkable commentary that there are in Canada west of the lakes eight points at which Canadian railways cross the United States and 15 points at which the Great Northern crosses into Canada, while east of the lakes there are 23 points at which Canadian roads cross into the States and two points at which American roads—the M. C. R. at Windsor and the B. & M. at Princeton, N. B.—cross into Canada.

The census shows that from east to west there are 31 places where Canadian roads cross the boundary line, while there are only 17 where American roads cross into Canada. This is in spite of the fact that Canada sells to United States only one hundred and ten million whereas it buys from United States two hundred and twenty-three millions annually.

The circumstances appear to indicate that the Canadian railways which are making the outcry against reciprocity are themselves the most anxious to promote trade with United States—much more anxious than the United States railways which they say are a menace to Canada.

A PRECEDENT IN ONTARIO LIBEL CASE

An interesting libel case was decided in a Hamilton court the other day when the suit of Dr. J. E. Wilkinson, of Toronto, against the Hamilton Herald was dismissed with costs.

Dr. Wilkinson was one of the parties who was mixed up with the Cobalt ore thieves. When the high graders were arrested Wilkinson was arrested too, but as the case developed it appeared that he merely bought the ore and it was not proven that he was aware that it was stolen. The case against him was therefore made a civil case.

In the newspaper stories of the case many Ontario newspapers made it appear that Wilkinson was one of the thieves. For this misconstruction Wilkinson commenced suit against 23 Ontario newspapers. Some of them settled, but a group of them decided to fight, and fixed on the Hamilton Herald as a test case. In his charge to the jury the judge pointed out that the fact that Wilkinson was suing so many papers was pretty good evidence that he was trying to make money out of the suits, and he asked the jury if any further damage could have been done to Wilkinson who had already been arrested, by naming him among the thieves.

The jury threw the case out, with the result that Wilkinson is not likely to go farther in his suits.

The interesting feature of the case is that it is one of the first in Canada where the newspapers were shown to have published statements which were proven to be untrue and yet escaped the exaction of a penalty for libel, the precedent being established that the newspapers are not legitimate game for any person who happens to tread so dangerously close to the criminal line that he himself has dealings with criminals.

NO INDISCRIMINATE FLOTATION OF OIL COMPANIES

A Toronto publication by the name of Canadian Finance says in its latest number that there is a flood of oil companies in Alberta, no less than sixty being recorded in one issue of the Alberta Gazette, and that this presents a sombre picture of indiscriminate flotation.

Canadian Finance can well save its fire. The sixty companies which were so recently floated are not offering any stock and the companies which are offering stock are making a legitimate effort to develop the oil fields.

Furthermore, no Alberta promoters are asking Toronto to buy any stock. Toronto may be all right to float Munro Wireless schemes in or Travers Farmers' banks, but as a field in which to enlist legitimate capital for the legitimate development of a legitimate enterprise it is not very generally looked on with favor by western promoters.

Cardstone Liberals who demand the resignation of J. W. Woolf because he has gone to live in Nevada undoubtedly have a grievance, as no constituency could be satisfied to have its representative in a foreign country, but if Woolf is really going to live in Nevada permanently it might be that he could serve the province in another capacity—as immigration agent. A man who has been as successful in this country as Woolf could scarcely be a knocker against Alberta.

The Hercules Rotary Engine Co. LIMITED

Authorized Capital $1,000,000 = In Shares of $100 Each

The test was adequate. The judgment was unbiased. The proof was perfect. The Hercules Engine can do all that is claimed for it, and a little more

Last night the Mayor and a number of the Aldermen, a large number of business men and many mechanical men thoroughly acquainted with the principals of power production saw the Hercules Rotary under steam at the Bulletin Office.

They saw the little model engine, not much larger than a nail keg drive the whole Bulletin Job Plant, including two Miehle presses, an Optimus, two monotypes and other pieces of machinery for the handling of which the Bulletin has regularly in use a 30 horse power engine.

They saw this engine standing on the floor without prop, brace, bolt or spike of any kind run so smoothly that a lead pencil which stood on its end on top of the engine during the entire demonstration scarcely showed a tremor.

To make this test the model Hercules was set up under the most unfavorable circumstances. Only a one-inch steam pipe connected the engine with the boiler, and in the pipe were many turns and elbows. At no time did the maximum steam pressure on the engine exceed 50 pounds.

The reverse movement of the engine was shown to be of such mechanical excellence that all who saw it and are at all acquainted with the difficulties which have been experienced in the mechanical world trying to furnish a proper reverse for the turbine, recognized that there was in this point alone a feature of excellence which certainly is worth millions.

The test was made so absolutely in the open that the most critical could find no fault with the demonstration, and among all those who saw the little engine work last night there was none who would venture the criticism that the engine did not do a great deal more than the inventor ever claimed for it.

Now is the Time to Buy Stock in the Hercules Rotary Do Not Hesitate

It is at this age in the history of any invention that investors have an opportunity to get in on terms that will eventually provide for them enormous profits.

When the Bell telephone was perfected Professor Bell made a tour of the North American Continent in which he demonstrated the merits of his invention. People who foresaw its possibilities and purchased stock in the Bell Telephone at that time now held securities worth $10,000 for every dollar purchased then and have meantime reaped their share of the enormous profits of the Bell.

People acquainted with the practical side of steam engineering will assure you without a moment's hesitation that an invention such as the Hercules Rotary, which is destined to revolutionize the science of steam engineering, is capable of earning millions in dividends for the stockholders. But financial men will tell you that in order to secure patents throughout the remainder of the civilized world and to place the engine on the market it is necessary to have some money in the treasury.

That is why we are offering 250 shares of stock at par to the Edmonton public.

A large part of this stock has been already sold and the interest manifested in the engine and the demonstration assures us that the remainder will be sold in a few days, if not in a few hours.

If you want to get in on this invention in its infancy and enjoy later on the profits which will be your due you must act at once. It will be but a very short time until the allotment offered to the public is sold out, and when this is done the Company is not at all likely to offer any more for sale. It is less likely to offer any more for sale at par. Take advantage of the opportunity by acting immediately. To hesitate in this case is certainly to lose. I you want the stock you should buy at once.

See Us about this Proposition at once. It cannot cost you anything to inquire. It may be enormously to your advantage was expressed by Mayor Armstrong, who pointed out that a coronation was an event which occurred seldom more than once in the lifetime of an individual. He dwelt upon the value of the pageant from many aspects. Upon citizens who had come to Canada from other than British Isles, the impression would be enormous. It was a time when the majesty and might of the world's greatest Empire might well be celebrated.

COMMITTEE WILL ARRANGE FOR CORONATION PAGEANT

Secretary Fisher, of the Board of Trade raised the question of the practicability of the proposal, pointing out that a very large sum of money must be expended if the celebration were to be a success. The city council and the leading business people of the city must be behind the movement. The opinions of the most influential business men of the city must be ascertained.

"If we wait until it is assured there is not much credit in finishing," was J. Travis Barker's comment on the above proposal. "I feel confident that we shall get the most tangible support from those who, not born in the old land themselves, were descended from British stock."

Mr. Fisher then moved that a committee be appointed to investigate the practicability of the proposal, and reported on Monday next. He found a seconder in W. H. Clark, who thought that a committee should be appointed to give more definite idea of the form the celebration might take.

Deprecation of Mr. Turner's suggestion that the cost of the demonstration should be in the neighborhood of $25,000 was expressed by T. H. Hinde, who thought a much smaller figure would suffice to assure a celebration of unparalleled magnificence.

The meeting decided by a large majority to proceed with the organization of a committee immediately and to get the proposition in hand.

Mayor Armstrong suggested that a committee be appointed for the purpose of selecting a state representative of each organization which may expect to take part in the coronation festival.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mr. Turner made a number of suggestions as to the composition of the coronation procession. The Royal Northwest Mounted Police, the mounted regiments, fleets of the various trade organizations, the societies, patriotic and fraternal, which wished to take part in the parade, should take part in the parade. There might be a float representing all nations of the Empire, another representing St. George and the Dragon, others representing Robert Bruce, St. David, etc., and one representing the "Gentlemen of England."

There should be children's tableaux cars, features provided by the French, Canadian, and the various nationalities which are being merged into the national life of Canada, and the Indian chiefs in full war paint. Mr. Turner announced that he had promised of the old days in Edmonton and the west, which would add to the historic value of the pageant. Mr. O'Neill has promised that a feature should be provided by a bunch of original cowboys.

The city band, the fire brigade, etc., would also be participants in the pageant, and a number of Chinese citizens, (six were present at the meeting last evening, for the purpose of expressing the desire of their countrymen to take part in the parade) had offered to build a triumphal arch. Mr. H. Jennings assured the meeting that the support of the English, French and German press would be given to the movement. All the space which might be required for the purpose of bringing the project before the public would be placed by the local press at the disposal of the organizers of the pageant and a press committee would be formed to render assistance.

The offer of Messrs. Jennings and Hunt to form a press committee was carried on motion of Mr. Turner.

TEXAS MACABEES IN SESSION

Dallas, Texas, Mar. 23.—Representatives of the Texas lodges of the Knights of the Macabees of the World met in State convention in this city to-day. A gratifying growth is reported in the order in Texas, there being 250 local lodges with an aggregate membership of 25,000.

The residences are above a stated value is likely to prove a knotty one to the board. Some discussion was given over to it at the meeting yesterday but no great degree of progress resulted. This morning the water and sewer committee will meet to talk this proposition over so the tension may be broken for the citizens concerned within a few days. The Mayor is inclined to incline to doubt that connections can be made compulsory without undue trouble.

The mayor reported that Professor Edwards is now making weekly tests of the river water for a remuneration of $25 per month, and he wished to know if the board wanted this analyzing to continue after the ice breaks and the river is open again. Owing to the low water raise common between the middle of April and the middle of May it was thought best to keep Prof. Edwards engaged for some time yet. The mayor said these tests are now regularly satisfactory both in the un-purified and sterilized water.

Mr. J. W. Turner was reappointed secretary of the board for the present year.

Building Permits. Although the building season is still some distance away there is commencing a slight activity amongst citizens for permits and within the past few days the office of the city engineer has granted receipts for a building value of $14,000. The list is as follows: John Pollard, brick theatre, $8000; Albert Brulder dwelling, $3000; stable, $200; Wm. Durrand, addition to house, $500; James Cameron, bungalow, $600; Wm. Gair, dwelling, $800; Albert Mallis, dwelling, $350; Edward Painter, stable, $300; Huell Duncan, alterations to store, $300.

Negro Case Dismissed.

At the final hearing of the negro case before magistrate Downes the action was dismissed there being insufficient evidence to convict. The young man Payden of the charges made against him by his father in law, Simpson. The young Simpson girl was released upon the recommendation of Superintendent Chadwick and she was allowed to return home to her parents. A large number of local negroes interested themselves in the case.

Dog Taxes Come Slowly.

Notwithstanding the threats of the police the dog taxes continue to reach the city's office in a manner marked by nothing but their lack of haste. Some of the innumerable canine family have already been despatched by a pistol medium and unless there is a redistribution very shortly of the tax money it is probable that Strathcona will be depopulated by a goodly number of the undesirables.

TY COBB AND "NAP" LAJOIE

Who is the best batter in the world? asks a New York Herald writer. If a vote were to be taken on this question among the baseball fans in the country, the chances are that part of them would answer Napoleon Lajoie and part would prefer Ty Cobb. Cobb, it continues. As a matter of fact, each side might well claim to be right.

It is the old slogan of the baseball world that batters are born and not manufactured. So sincerely do the managers believe in this axiom that they keep high salaried scouts combing the byways of baseball with a fine tooth tool at summer long looking for "three hundred" hitters. On this account several hundred young men are carried south each spring with the big league clubs in the hope that lurking somewhere among them there may be a three hundred hitter. If one is found, the manager and the club owners are satisfied for their trouble and expense.

Cobb and Lajoie are born hitters of exactly opposite types. Their styles are as far apart as the east is from the west, as Third Avenue is from Fifth, as the hobble skirt is from the hoop variety.

Lajoie is the natural, graceful hitter who swings at any kind of a ball, high or low, on the inside or the outside of the plate, and he never hesitates. The Frenchman strides up to the batter's box with an almost indifferent manner as much as to say to the pitcher, "I dare you to throw one over," and as a rule he hits at the first ball. Curves bother him little. He has what baseball men call a "nice" eye. That is, he follows the course of the ball with his eye from the time it leaves the pitcher's hand until he hits it or it shoots past him.

Pitchers complain that it is useless to try to fool him, for if a curve breaks where he is not expecting it he has the peculiar ability of changing his crotch position at the plate in time to hit the ball. He seems instinctively to swing where the ball is. He is not always trying to throw but he depends on his quick eye to pick out the ball after it has started on its way.

Tyrus Raymond Cobb is of altogether another school of batters. Science is his middle name. He is wily, fast, quick-witted at the bat. He makes a pitcher work to the last notch. He is an excellent judge of balls and strikes and is seldom caught swinging at a bad ball. After he has hit the ball he is a flash on the base line, being off with the swing of his bat and having wonderful speed. In this way Cobb bats out many infield hits on which Lajoie would be caught yards away from the bag.

Cobb is a nervous energy, and he comes up to the bat swinging three sticks. That has a certain psychological value, as it makes him look more formidable to a pitcher. In the box he moves about and fidgets, scratching dirt with his hands and spikes and doing everything futile imagination can conceive to worry the opposing baseman.

Still the question which man is the better batter remains unanswered. Both are invaluable to their teams. What would the Detroit club do without Cobb? Where would the Cleveland team have been last season with out Lajoie? It is a recognized fact that without Cobb the Tigers would not have won at least two of the three pennants that they have taken in the American league. Lajoie is the pillar around which the Cleveland club is built.

Both are young men, Cobb is twenty-four and Lajoie twenty-nine. Several good years of baseball are left in each one. Perhaps the only way to decide which is the better hitter is to toss a coin. But pennies are so freaky in the way that they come down!

BAXTER BROTHERS TO JOIN ESKIMOS

Both Youngsters Have Proved That They Are There With the Goods.

Moose Baxter's two brothers, Andy and Henry, both of whom have won for themselves an enviable reputation in baseball circles at the coast, have just been signed up by Deacon White for the Eskimo team. Their contracts have been secured in the face of much competition. Bob Brown, manager of the Vancouver club, and Calgary both having made an effort to get the brothers in line for the coming season.

Both of the new men are over six feet in height, and have won for themselves high praise in their last season's playing. Andy led the Spokane city league last season, with a batting average of .462 and a fielding average of 1 error in 15 games. Henry is a pitcher, and will form a valuable addition to Deacon's battery.

PLAYER'S ABILITY IS SHORT LIVED

Are Able To Remain At The Head of Their Profession Only Short Time.

Players still in the big league who were in the fast company in 1902 56
Players still with same club they were in 1903 27
Players who have played with the same club since 1903 23
Players in big leagues in 1903: American League 121
National League 146

One of those winter fans who love to frequent the baseball headquarters rainy afternoons inspired the following article says the Cleveland Plaindealer. The inspiring arrived with a comment by the winter fan that it's getting harder each season for youngsters to break into big leagues because the veteran modern ballplayer is so perfectly trained and so careful that he is lasting from 12 to 15 years, in the fast game instead of from five to ten years.

In support of his argument the fan was quite sure that in the past seven years considerably less than half the big league players in the game in 1903 had dropped out before the finish of the 1910 season.

The above table shows the fallacy of this belief. Of 247 players who were apportioned off to the various clubs, in both leagues when the American and National leagues drew up their agreement in 1903, but 56 remain in fast company. Of this number several have drifted to the minors to come back for another chance and a few—Patsy Donovan, Clark Griffith, John McGraw, Hugh Jennings and Bill Dahlen—have become non-playing managers.

The players who have remained with the same teams since 1903 are: American League: St. Louis—Wallace; Philadelphia—Frank Bender, Martini, Davis, Murphy. Chicago—White, Sullivan, Tammill. Cleveland—Lajoie, Jess. Detroit—Houston, Mullin, Crawford.

National League: New York—Matthewson, McGraw. Chicago—Tinker, Evers. Pittsburgh—Leever, Wagner, Leach, Phillip, Clarke.
